

SOCIETY

BELGIANS, Red Cross, the European war and everything else that comes under the heading of charity was forgotten for several hours on Tuesday evening when society folk gathered at the Moana hotel for the dinner and dance there at which Fanchon and Marco Wolff were the chief attraction. This is the first time that Honolulu has had a taste of the cabaret entertainers and they made a decided hit. With her singing Miss Fanchon charmed the diners and Marco and his violin received hearty applause. By playing and singing both classical and ractime songs, the entertainers pleased the fastidious older folks as well as the younger generation. When they danced—well, everyone held his or her breath. It was inspiring to see such grace in the modern dances, which as a rule are choppy, perhaps because they are danced by amateurs for the most part.

All the tables about the room were taken. Most of the parties were of four or six, though there were a few larger ones.

One of the prettiest of the dinner parties was that given by Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wall and Mrs. D. Ahlborn. A large round table in the center of the room seated 17 guests. Delicate pink roses and maidenhair ferns arranged in a large basket ornamented the table and dainty hand-painted place cards marked the place of each guest. Favors for the ladies were attractive orange bouquets of white roses. Covers were laid at this table for Mrs. D. Ahlborn, Miss Margaret Center, Miss Rose Herbert, Miss Wallace, Miss Nora Sturgeon, Mr. and Mrs. John Watt, Mrs. J. A. Kennedy, Dr. C. Alfred Wall, George Ahlborn, Bob Purvis, Stanley Kennedy, Charles Herbert, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wall, Mrs. Mary Gunn and Mr. Will Lewers.

Mr. and Mrs. George Beckley entertained for six, their guests being Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Henshaw and Mr. A. Robbins.

Covers were laid for six at Col. and Mrs. F. P. Reynolds' table, for beside the host and hostess were Mrs. Harrison Hall, Miss Betty Case, Maj. Geo. Blakely and Mr. Robert Couvain.

Mrs. R. B. Selby, who is spending the winter in Honolulu, entertained for Miss Gertrude Courtwright, Miss Valpey, Donald Gilmore, Mr. Roscoe Perkins and Mr. Charles Stewart.

Covers were laid for four at the table at which Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Rawlins and Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Chillingworth were seated.

Mr. and Mrs. John Shibe entertained for Lieut. and Mrs. Thomas Spencer, Miss Miriam Stacker and Miss Ruth Stacker.

At another table covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Brown and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Castle.

Mrs. Charles H. Atherton entertained for Miss Letitia Morgan, Miss Violet Atherton, Mr. James Morgan and Mr. Hebard Case.

Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Saunders entertained for Mr. and Mrs. F. T. Tubbs, Paymaster and Mrs. P. J. Willett, Mrs. Katherine M. Yates and Miss Hazel Jones.

As usual Honolulu's matrons and maids were splendidly gowned for the occasion. The costumes cut very low in front and back, fastened over the shoulders with an inch-wide ribbon and ornamented with fluffy maline, were very noticeable.

One of the pretty gowns of the evening was that worn by Mrs. George Beckley. Handsome brocaded white satin fashioned after the loose-fitting mode, a single flowing sleeve of blue chiffon with its only touch of color were combined in the striking costume.

Miss Carol Low, whose engagement to Mr. Kenneth Shute is announced today.

Mrs. Walter Macfarlane might easily have been taken for a Spanish beauty. She wore a gown of blue and silver spangles with a hip drape of white lace. In her black hair was a single scarlet poppy, which was very fascinating.

Mrs. Richard Cooke was very becomingly gowned in dull blue charmeuse with trimmings in heavy gold lace.

Miss Margaret Center wore a girlish frock of white net with a deep basque of baby blue. Clusters of tiny pink roses were caught in folds of the gown and fastened at the left shoulder.

Miss Rose Herbert wore a charming costume of white plaited chiffon with a draped basque of lavender. Bright roses ornamented the flounces of the skirt.

Mrs. Robert Shingle was lovely in a Nile green taffeta with an overdress of green tulle. The costume was loosely fitted and decidedly becoming.

Mrs. A. N. Campbell wore a striking combination of lavender and silver brocade, fashioned with a long train.

Miss Violet Atherton was most becomingly costumed in black and cerise. Her gown was designed with flounces alternating black and cerise. The bodice was of white silk and black lace.

Miss Letitia Morgan wore white silk with a girle and touches of cerise.

Mrs. Fritz Henshaw wore a costume of black and cerise, very becoming to her dark type of beauty.

Mrs. John Shibe of Philadelphia was striking in a heavy green silk with the waist and short overskirt of gold and silver lace embroidered in opalescent spangles. She wore diamond ornaments.

Mrs. Harold Castle was in pale yellow. The bodice was a basque and the slender skirt was covered with fluffy ruffles of yellow lace.

Mrs. Arthur Wall wore a goblin blue costume, with the bodice ornamented with heavy lace.

Miss Ruth McChesney was charming in a frock of yellow satin and tulle. Miss Nora Sturgeon wore a becoming costume of white satin with the wrist and overskirt of cerise embellished with self-colored spangles.

Mrs. Charles F. Chillingworth was stunning in a costume of blue charmeuse fashioned with the basque.

Mrs. Thomas Spencer, wife of Lieut. Spencer, wore a dainty costume of white satin with an overdress of chiffon trimmed with white fur. Her deep girle was of gold satin.

Mrs. Walter Dillingham was lovely in a gown of silver pink charmeuse and chiffon.

Mrs. L. N. Hind wore an attractive gown of black charmeuse and net.

Miss Harriet Hatch was effective in white charmeuse and lace.

Miss Alice Cooke was lovely in white.

Miss Betty Case wore a charming gown of white satin made with the basque and overskirt. She wore a wide-brimmed black velvet hat with a large white bow as its only ornament.

Mrs. F. P. Reynolds was attractive in blue charmeuse with a bodice of white chiffon.

Mrs. R. B. Selby wore a rose-pink gown trimmed with white lace. This was one of the newest models from New York. It was high off the floor and the low-cut waist was fastened over the shoulders with straps of rose velvet. Her neck and arms were draped with pink maline.

Mrs. Frank Thompson was charmingly gowned in pale yellow charmeuse with flower ornaments of roses in the pastelle shades.

Mrs. A. M. Brown wore a stunning combination of cerise velvet with a lace bodice.

Miss Ruth Soper was lovely in a frock of rose-flowered pink chiffon.

Mrs. W. T. Rawlins wore a very striking costume of black net ornamented with spangles, with the upper portion of the bodice of white lace.

Mrs. Mary Gunn wore a deep cream costume ornamented with cream lace.

Mrs. A. Lewis, Jr., was noticeably well-gowned in pale yellow satin trimmed with cream lace.

Among those noticed at the affair were Mr. and Mrs. George C. Beckley, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Macfarlane, SOCIAL CALENDAR.

Dinner-Dance at the Moana.
Miss Carol Low Betrothed.
Kindergarten Teachers' Party.
New Club Firm.
Dr. and Mrs. A. G. Hodgins' Dinner.
Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wall's Party.
Mrs. Charles Drew Entertains.
Y. W. C. A. Christmas Frolic.
Christmas Celebrations.
Miss Doris Haywood's Wedding.
Tea for Miss Marjorie Freeth.
Whose Engagement is Announced.
Col. and Mrs. Reynolds' Party at the Moana.
Mr. and Mrs. James Bicknell Entertain.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Shingle, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Rawlins, Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Henshaw, Miss Letitia Morgan, Miss Violet Atherton, Mr. and Mrs. John Shibe, Mrs. R. M. Selby, Miss Gertrude Courtwright, Miss L. Valpey, Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Chillingworth, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Castle, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Brown, Col. and Mrs. F. P. Reynolds, Lieut. and Mrs. Thomas Spencer, Maj. and Mrs. E. V. Smith, Miss Ruth Soper, Miss Ruth McChesney, Miss Margaret Center, Miss Alice Cooke, Miss Harriet Hatch, Miss Nora Sturgeon, Miss Betty Case, Mrs. Harrison Hall, Miss Miriam Stacker, Mrs. Mary Gunn, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wall, Mrs. D. Ahlborn, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Cooke, Mr. and Mrs. A. Lewis, Jr., Mrs. Katherine M. Yates, Mrs. Charles H. Atherton, Miss Wallace, Mrs. James A. Kennedy, Mrs. D. Ahlborn, Mrs. Mary Gunn, Mr. and Mrs. F. T. Tubbs, Paymaster and Mrs. P. J. Willett, Miss Hazel Jones, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Saunders, Mr. and Mrs. L. N. Hind, Mr. Argabrite, Mr. Robert Purvis, Mr. George Ahlborn, Dr. Alfred Wall, Mr. Philip Spalding, Dr. Donald Gilmore, Mr. Hebard Case, Mr. Roscoe Perkins, Major George Blakely, Mr. Robert Couvain, Mr. James Morgan, Major Dr. Witt W. Chamberlain, Mr. Will Lewers and Mr. Stanley Kennedy.

Betrothal Announced.

Miss Carol Low chose a novel way this week to announce her betrothal to Mr. Kenneth Bruce Shute of Massachusetts when she mailed her own calling cards and those of her fiancé to her friends. The engagement came as a surprise to Miss Low's circle of friends. She has been in the East for more than two years and it has not been suspected that she had spent her time at anything but her studies.

Miss Low is the second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eben P. Low and is one of the most charming members of the younger set. She is a vivacious young girl and an accomplished dancer, having studied the trelchorean art from childhood. Miss Low's friends all hoped that they would keep her in the islands for a while, but though no definite date has been set for the wedding it will probably take place during the mid-summer.

Mr. Shute is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Shute of Gloucester, Massachusetts, and is with the Boston & Maine Railroad Company as a civil engineer. He is a graduate of the class of '08 at Amherst and a member of the Phi Delta Theta fraternity.

Engagement Announced.

It was with unfeigned surprise that 30 or more friends of Miss Marjorie Freeth learned of her engagement to Mr. Ralph E. Clark, at a tea given in honor of the pretty bride-elect by Mrs. Robert Shingle this afternoon. The guests learned of the engagement when, after eating sweets from dainty pink baskets, they discovered hidden beneath the candy little hearts bearing the initials of the betrothed. Mr. Clark is from Oakland and has been here but a year. He is with the insurance department of Theo. H. Davies & Company.

Miss Freeth is the daughter of Mrs. E. K. Freeth of Nuanu valley and is a favorite in Honolulu society. In all probability many of the midwinter affairs will be given in her honor.

Pink and white were the colors chosen by Mrs. Shingle for her decorations today and a profusion of hibiscus and sweet peas were arranged about the spacious rooms of her home on Makiki street. Delicate shades of pink were seen even in the ices and cakes that were served during the afternoon. Little pink "kewpies" with large bows of tulle tied to little pink baskets were given to each guest, some of whom were Mrs. E. K. Freeth, Mrs. Herbert Mist, Mrs. Robert Mist, Miss Edith Mist, Mrs. Ben Williams, Mrs. George Beckley, Mrs. William B. Lymer, Mrs. Edward B. Loomis, Miss Sarah Lucas, Miss Pauline Schaefer, Miss Ruth Anderson, Miss Dorothy Guild, Miss Bertha Kopke, Miss Esther Kopke, Miss Marion Peacock, Miss Edith Peacock, Mrs. A. G. M. Robertson, Mrs. W. H. Campbell, Miss Florence Hoffman, Miss Blanche Soper, Miss Ruth Soper, Miss Dorothy Guild, Miss Bertha Kopke, Miss Esther Kopke, Miss Marion Peacock and Miss Edith Peacock.

Weaver-Ables Engagement.

Cards bearing the announcement of the engagement of Miss Helen Weaver of Oakland and Mr. Kenneth Ables of Honolulu, were received by the friends of Mr. Ables this week. This interesting bit of news was a surprise, but then, engagements are never supposed to be expected. The young couple became engaged during the time they were in college, and it is expected that the wedding will take place in the early spring.

Miss Weaver is a popular society girl of Oakland, taking part in all the affairs of the younger set.

Kenneth Ables is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Ables of this city and is well known all over the islands. He is an accomplished musician and a composer of some ability. He is now assistant manager of the new Studebaker Company in Oakland, of which company Mr. Weaver is president.

Mrs. Fritz Henshaw's Farewell Tea.

Prior to her departure for the mainland this week Mrs. Fritz Henshaw, the charming young society matron who came to Honolulu a bride some two years ago, entertained a number of her friends at tea at her home on Wilder avenue. Fresh-cut flowers and potted plants attractively arranged about the drawing room made an attractive background for the affair. Some among those who called during the afternoon were Mrs. Gustav Schieffer, Miss Hazel Burr, Miss Ruth McChesney, Miss Margaret Center, Mrs. Pessie Abbot Howland, Miss Marian Chapin, Mrs. Charles F. Chillingworth, Mrs. A. G. M. Robertson, Mrs. Robert Shingle, Mrs. George Beckley, Mrs. Walter Macfarlane, Mrs. W. T. Rawlins, Miss Marjorie Freeth, Mrs. Freeth and Mrs. William Campbell.

Miss Helen Wilder Returning to Honolulu.

After an absence from the islands of several years, Miss Helen Wilder is returning to Honolulu in the Wilhelmina Tuesday. Miss Wilder was prominent in social affairs of Honolulu when she lived here, but in recent years she has preferred travelling through Europe and superintending her California ranch to residing in sunny Hawaii. The length of Miss Wilder's stay at her old home is indefinite.

Miss Priscilla Elliott in San Francisco.

Miss Priscilla Elliott, the delightful navy girl who visited Honolulu some two years ago as the guest of her sister, Mrs. Ross Kingsbury, wife of Lieut. Ross Kingsbury, is in San Francisco and this season is one of the leaders of the younger folk at the Presidio. Her vivaciousness and beauty has made scores of friends for her among the service folk of San Francisco. Recently Miss Elliott with her parents, Capt. and Mrs. John Elliott, entertained at a tea dance for Miss Dorothy Bennett, a popular debutante of the army circles.

It will be remembered that Miss Elliott left Honolulu aboard the battle-cruiser Maryland as the guest of former Secretary of State and Mrs. Philander C. Knox. At the time the Maryland visited Honolulu with the Knox party Capt. John Elliott was commanding the cruiser.

New Clothes for the Men.

The girls—and some of the men—have been wondering how the young men at the dances can do all the new feats in the modern dances, including the twists, turns, slides and hops without looking like a walking Turkish bath as they did in former days. A writer for one of the eastern magazines has explained this, though the explanation is a bit startling. He says that the "smart" evening clothes worn by the men are of such light fabrics that they can be literally drawn through a keyhole. All the heavy paddings and linings have been done away with and though the necks are not cut low, they are quite as comfortable as the gowns of the fair dancers.

Mrs. A. E. Schlanser, wife of Capt. Schlanser of the Medical Corps, U. S. A., and a popular matron in the army set.

That Something New And Just In Time For Xmas

A Choice Selection of Women's Neckwear

The "LIEGE" CAPE and many other equal attractive pieces of women's neckwear are now on display and offered for your inspection.

In this Selection of Neckwear you will find the unusual, that something different which appeals to the women of good taste, and refinement and that which lends a touch of individuality not to be had in the ordinary.

B. F. Ehlers & Company
EST. 1887

"Quality First"

Whitney & Marsh

...serve you and help
...timely suggestions
An efficient and obliging force of salesladies will be only to pleased to show you the many

Useful and Attractive Gifts

which our store offers.

Our store will be open every evening until Christmas. We will remain closed on Friday and Saturday, Dec. 25 and 26.

REAL English Holly

(Also California Holly)
will arrive on the Wilhelmina on December 22nd.

Will be sold Loose or made up in wreaths of various sizes.

Please Order Early

Mrs. E. M. Taylor, Florist
Hotel St., opp. Young Cafe
Phone 2339

